DEDICATION

How does one recognize a sincerely devoted teacher? One indication might be the sacrificing of a long dreamed of trip when asked to teach summer school. Or the hours gladly given in helping to build a student's character through such an organization as National Honor Society. Or perhaps just the joy and enthusiasm freely radiated by such a teacher is enough to prove this devotion to the students and to the teaching profession.

This year we honor a person who fully displays all of these qualities. She is a challenging teacher who has served not only the students and fellow teachers, but the entire community. The many she has inspired during her years at Woodruff will not forget MISS EDWARDINE SPERLING, to whom the 1969 TALISMAN is proudly dedicated.

Foreword

Imagine a football game played in silence, a party without laughter, a classroom without voices, or a dance without music. Sounds are an important part of our everyday life. Within the pages of this TALISMAN, we, the staff, have tried to recapture many of the wonderful sounds of living during the 1969 school year.

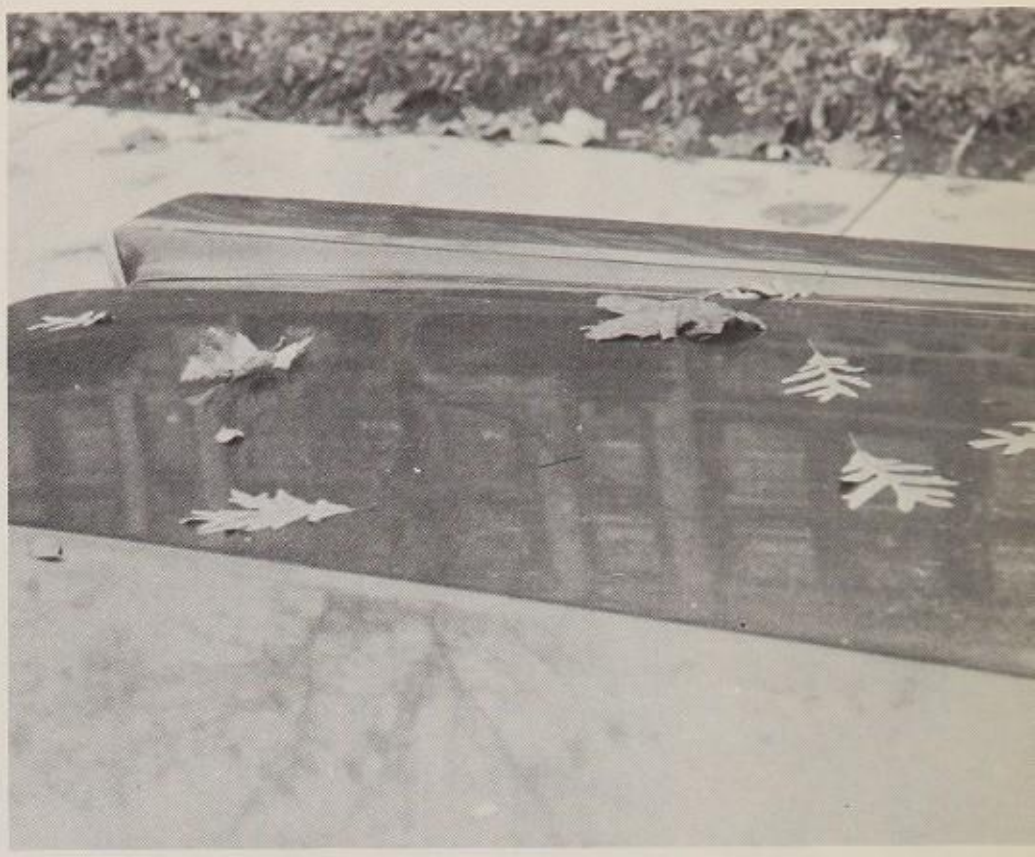
Autumn Finds Students Returning

to Woodruff



Autumn finds students returning to Woodruff. Once again the halls fill with shuffling feet and chattering voices. Crowded streets, falling leaves, choosing class rings, and receiving computerized report cards get us into the swing of a fresh new school year.

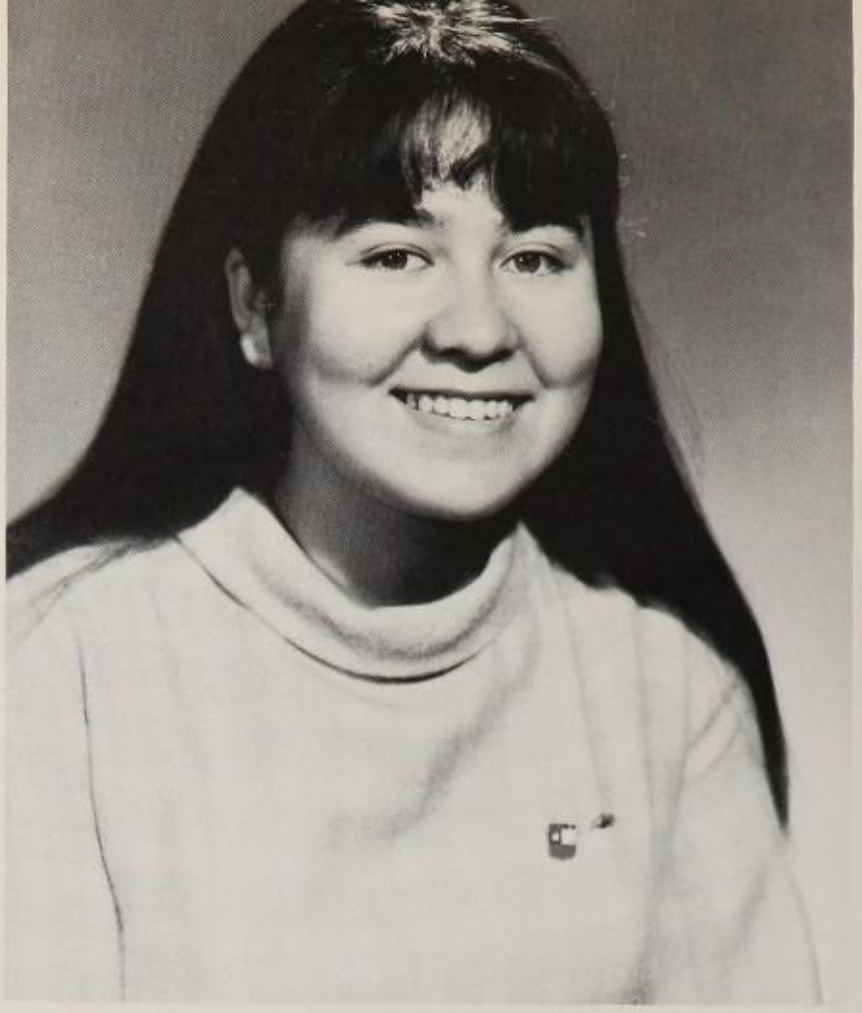
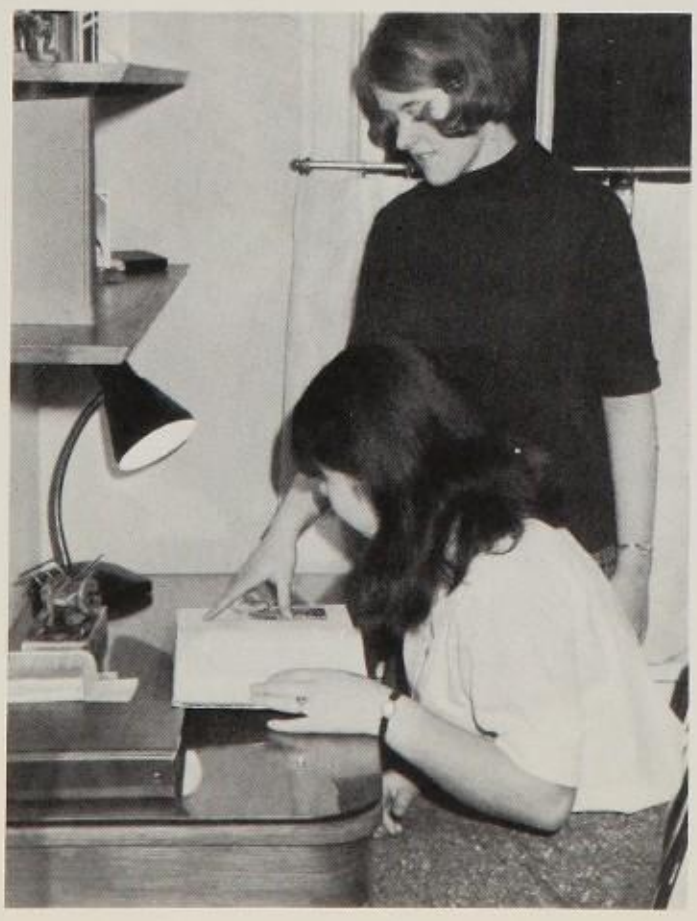
AFS: Maria



Some things that I especially like in the U. S. A. and at Woodruff are the punctuality that the people have, tomorrow means tomorrow, not manana.... the opportunities that students have to choose what they want to take to help them with their future... the work of the Student Council....football, which is new to me....the great school spirit of the cheerleaders....the game of basketball....tobogganing, which is fantastic with all the snow and all those trees, which I sometimes hit....slumber parties with all that talking and food...toasted cheese sandwiches, pizza, French fries, fried chicken, and, of course, Chili, spelled with an i.



Our Friend from Chile

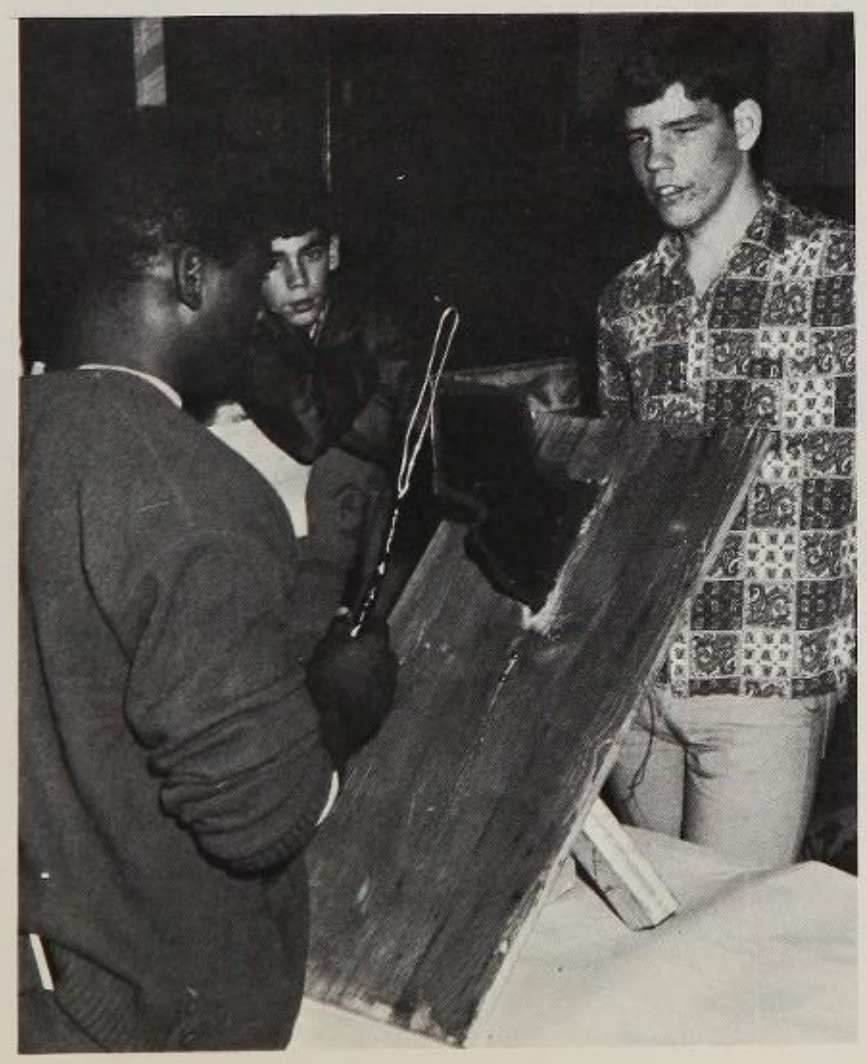
Her native flag, pictured on the opposite page, was the last glimpse of Chile that Maria Roa had as she left to spend a year in the U. S. Helping her to understand the American way of life are Miss Drake, her advisor at Woodruff, and the Delmar Warnkes, her American family. To spend a year in the United States becomes a reality for many through American Field Service. The picture in the upper right-hand corner shows forty students from all parts of the world who passed through Peoria last summer on their way home. Truly they can carry home the motto of A. F. S., "Walk together, talk together, then and only then will there be peace."

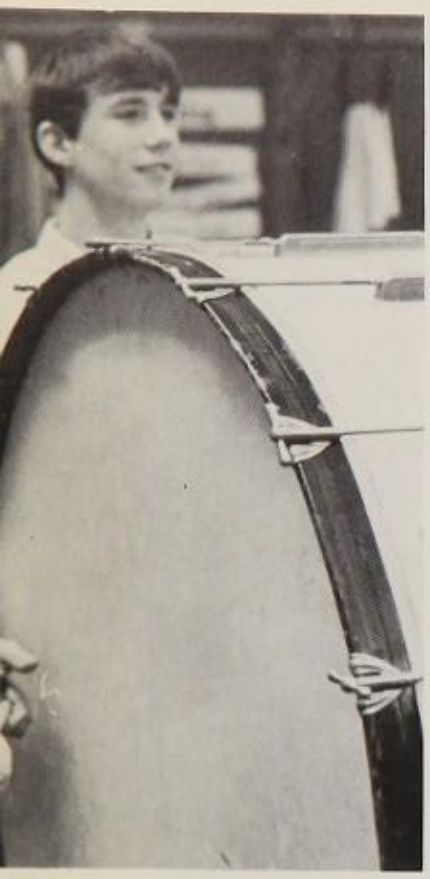
The "Rainmaker"

From the moment the curtain rose on the talented cast of seven to the moment it closed on the rain, made possible by the imaginative stage crew, the Senior class play proved to be the outstanding dramatic event of the fall. Mr. Kenneth Freeburn directed an enthusiastic cast who are revealed in these glimpses of the play: Keith Barr makes his spirited grand entrance as Starbuck (above); Sheriff (Jon Lewis) and Deputy File (Dan Fogelberg) discuss the merits of owning a dog; Lizzie (Marty Sausser) and Janie (Vicki Grube) are seen in their livingroom (top left); Starbuck confronts Lizzie with facts about herself (lower left); and (below) Janie bubbles over in excitement as she tells of her faith in Starbuck with her father (John Ross) and brother (Steve Brewer) listening.

'68 Carnival

November 22 found the Woodruff gym transformed into a brightly decorated carnival midway. Vickie Vaughan and Paula Thornton seemed to be the main attraction in a dunking booth entitled "Dethrone the Queen" (above). Food, prizes, and a great deal of fun were enjoyed by all who attended this event sponsored by the Tomahawk Club to help support our athletic budget. Reigning over the evening were Debbie Day and Farrell Robb who earned the title of "Carnival Couple" by selling the most entry tickets (right).





A focal point of our school is the lively WHS band directed by the vibrant Mr. Harlan Light. Their long hours of practice has paid off in the talent and enthusiasm they lend to nearly every kind of extra-curricular activity. Drum major Bruce Gibson leads the marching band in their intricate formations and peppy arrangements at football games. Mr. Light directs the entertaining stage band with his entire body and soul, a real marvel to watch! Their dedication deserved great tribute as the WHS band truly displays as well as turns on school spirit.

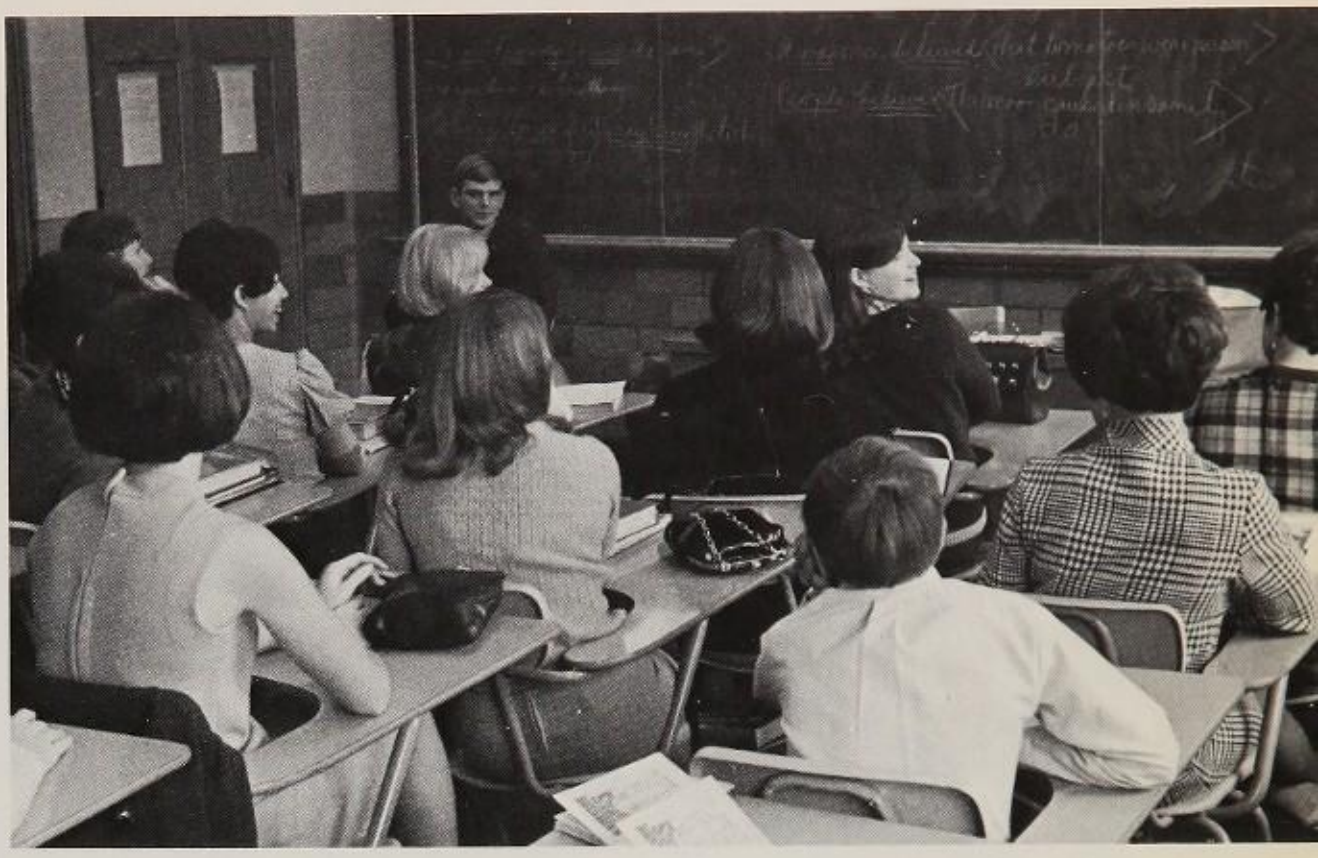
Publications

During the course of the year, the OBSERVER staff, under the supervision of Mr. Kenneth Bushman, produces ten award-winning newspaper copies. Through the diligent effort of the whole staff, they capture exciting current events of our school and city.

Also using seventh hour for preparing copy is the TALISMAN staff, under the direction of Miss Joan Herzog. Thinking up headlines and layouts, staying within a limited budget, and giving up many spare hours to meet deadlines are only a few of the tasks of the TALISMAN staff. Although the work may be challenging and the hours long the rewards are many when the yearbook is presented.

Student Council



A vital organization of our school is the Student Council. This year's council is led by the student body President, Frank Gingery. Meeting every fourth hour, they discuss various plans for activities throughout the year. Sharing and receiving ideas from other Mid-State 9 councils, our Student Council annually sponsors a Christmas party for EMH children, publishes a student directory, promotes spirit, and decorates and plans the majority of our dances. The Student Council is also active in the AFS program, and extends friendship to our foreign exchange students. With their capable advisor, Miss Betty Drake, and a great deal of enthusiasm from its elected members, the Student Council becomes a valuable asset to Woodruff High School.

Winter Playhouse

The landscape became a winter playhouse as the snow fell and the lagoon froze. A sharp skate blade and coordination were required for a skillful game of "crack the whip." Others enjoyed speeding down the snow-covered slopes on toboggans. The air remained crisp and cold. To keep the tradition of the season, a beautiful flocked tree decorated the front hall.

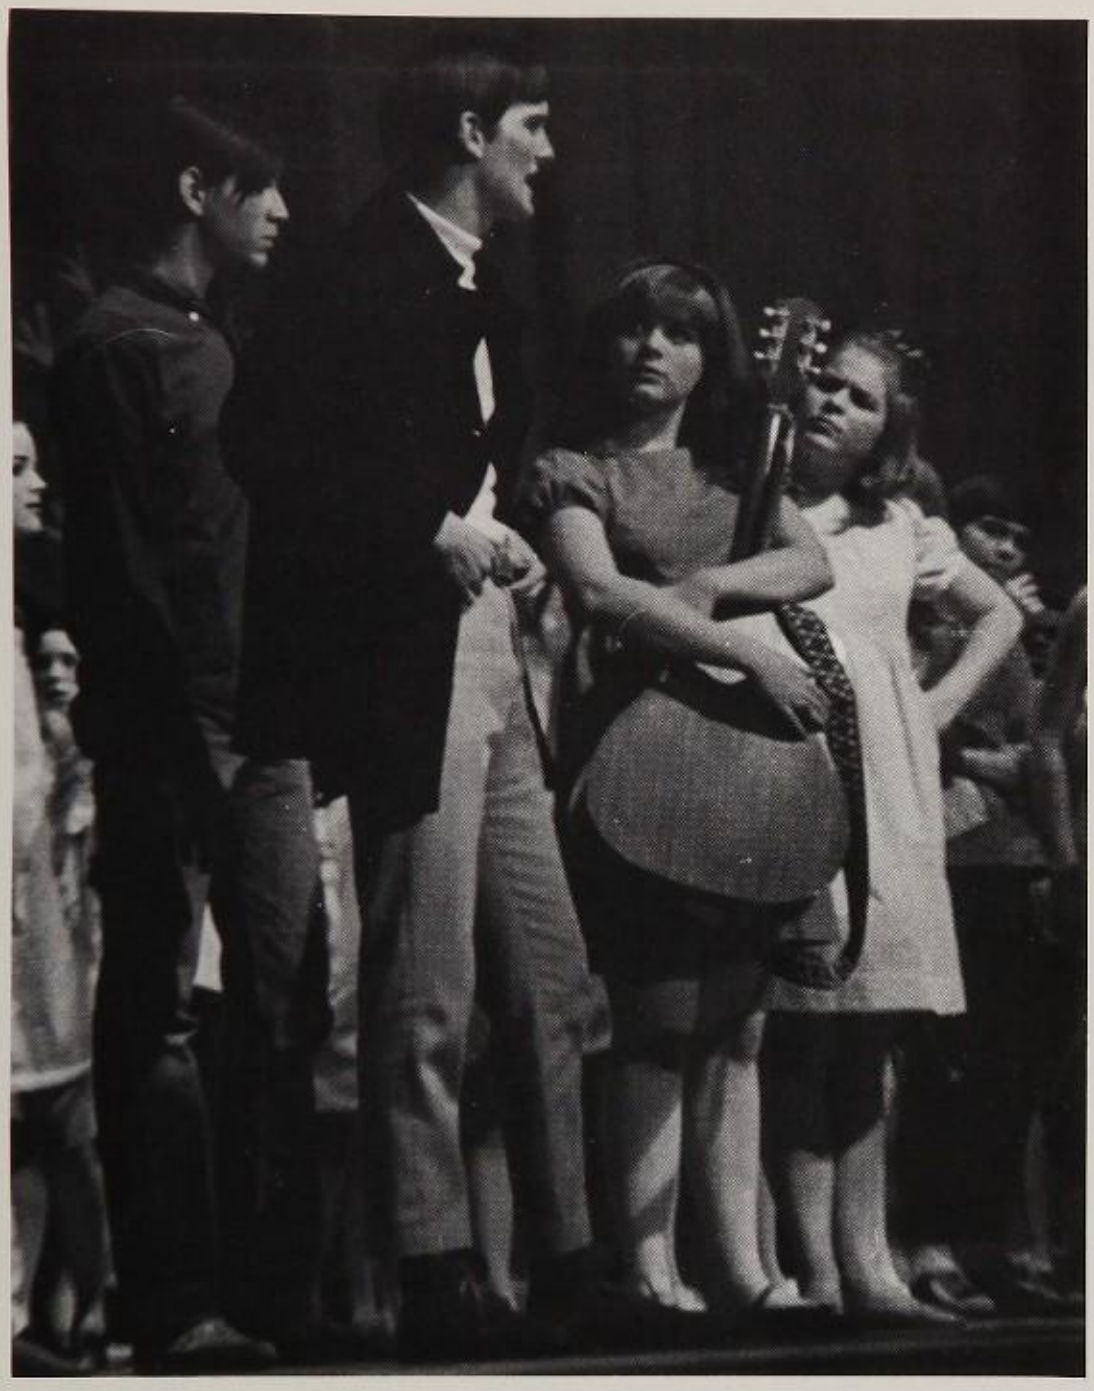
"Look to the Rainbow"—"Finian's Rainbow"

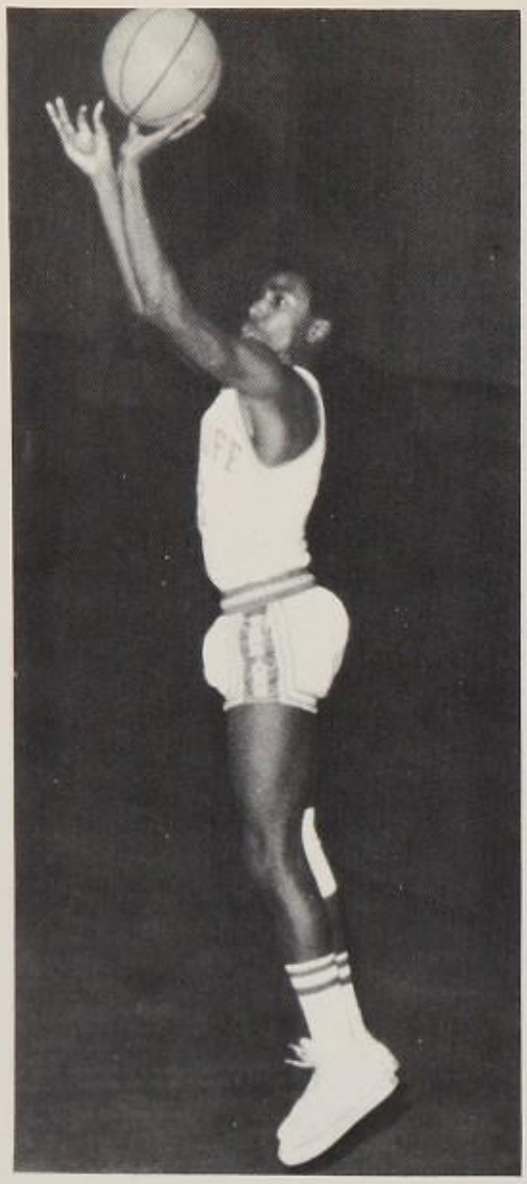


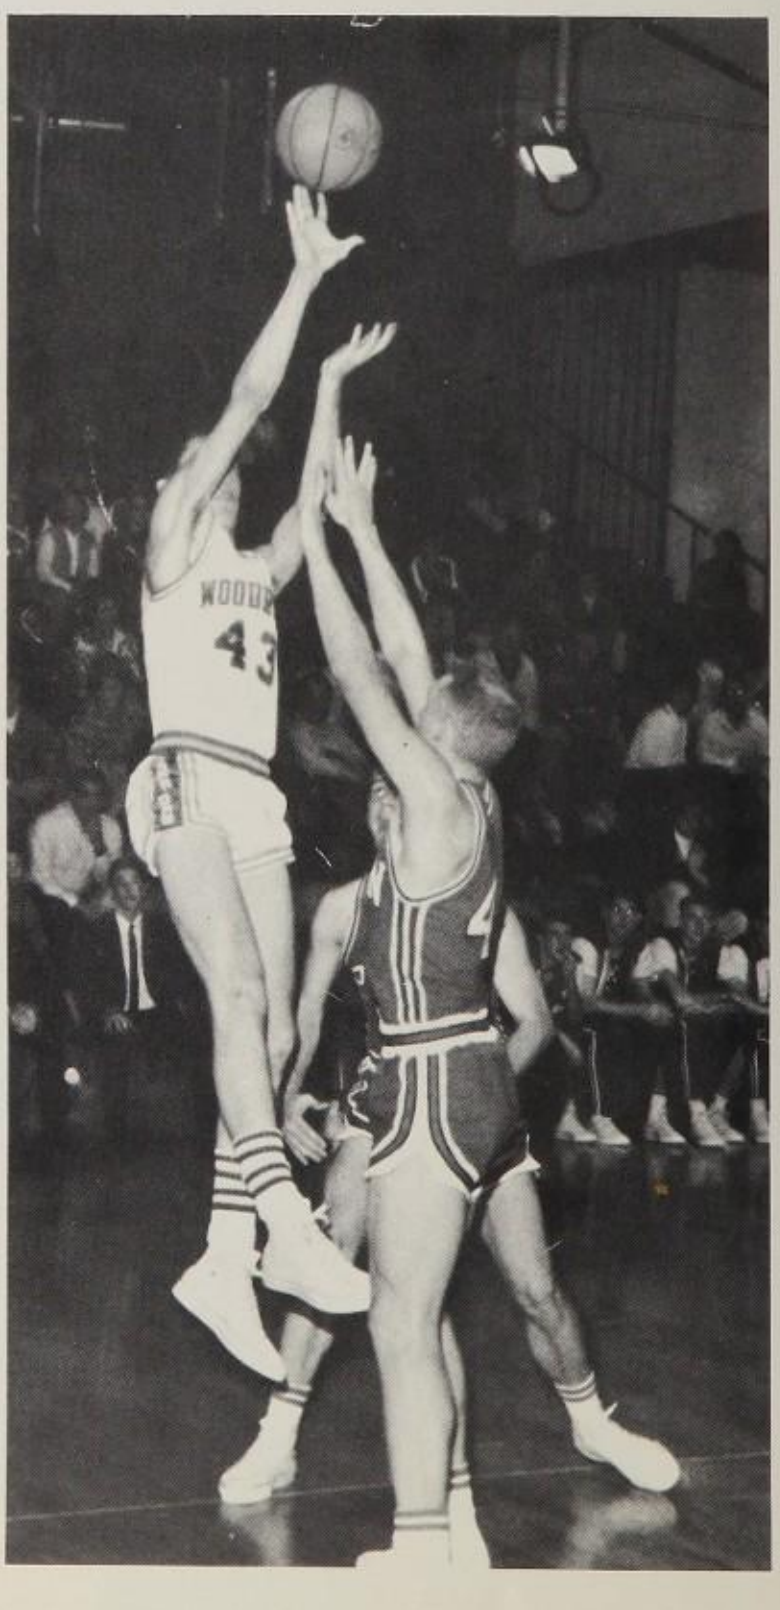
It was "Something Sort of Grandish" as the vocal music department presented the musical "Finian's Rainbow" December fifth and sixth. Thinking that burying a small pot of gold in American soil would make him rich, Finian McLonergan (Micky Fowler) brings his daughter Sharon (Terri Leiby) to the United States. They arrive in Rainbow Valley and immediately meet many of the inhabitants including Woody Mahoney (Dale Powers) who falls in love with Sharon. Senator Billboard Rawkins (Mike Claver) portrays the villian who reforms along with his counterpart, Buzz (Clarence Lewis). The plot thickens with the appearance of Og, the leprechaun (Gene Mortimer) who followed Finian from Ireland to reclaim his gold. The cast of over one hundred was admirably directed by Mrs. Dolores Lauderbaugh.

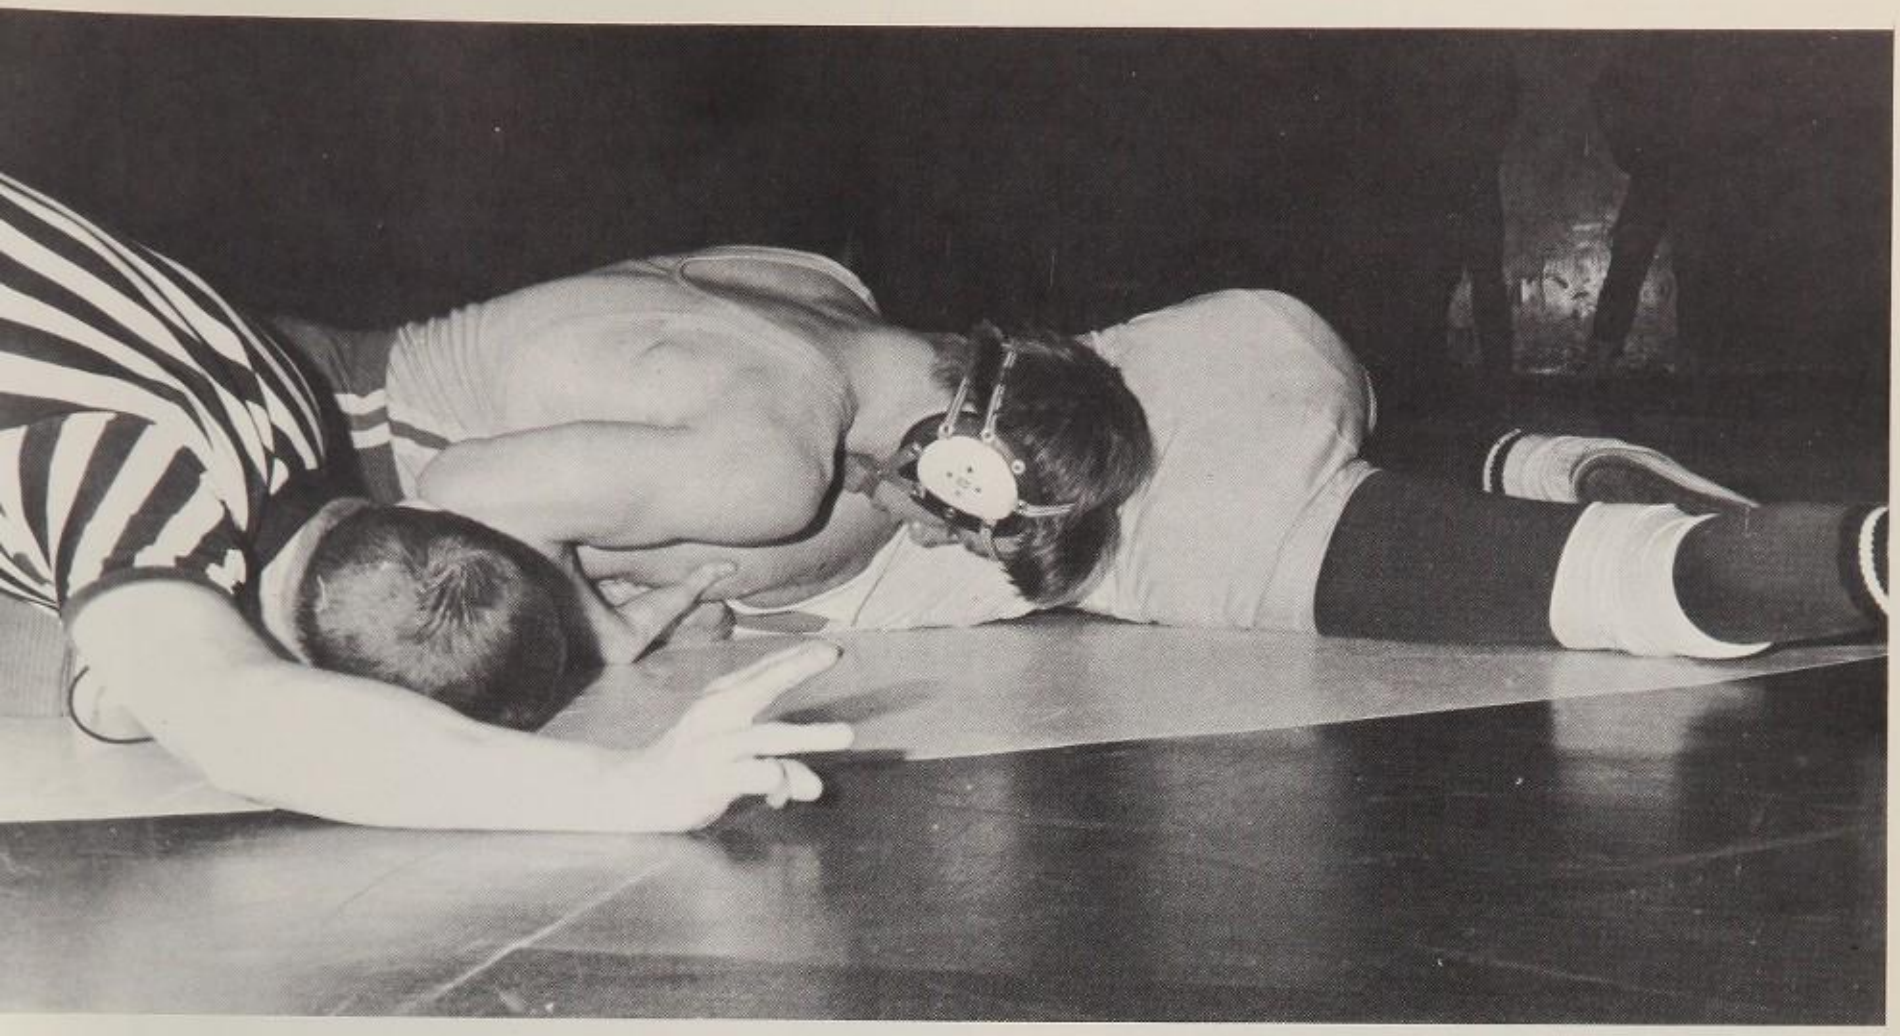
It's Christmas Everywhere

Woodruff students felt the holiday spirit at the annual Christmas assembly and dance, and they showed it by giving a Christmas party for children not as fortunate. The music department combined with the speech department to present a variety of views of Christmas during the assembly. "The Roadhouse Band" provided the entertainment for the Christmas dance held at the Bradley Student Center.

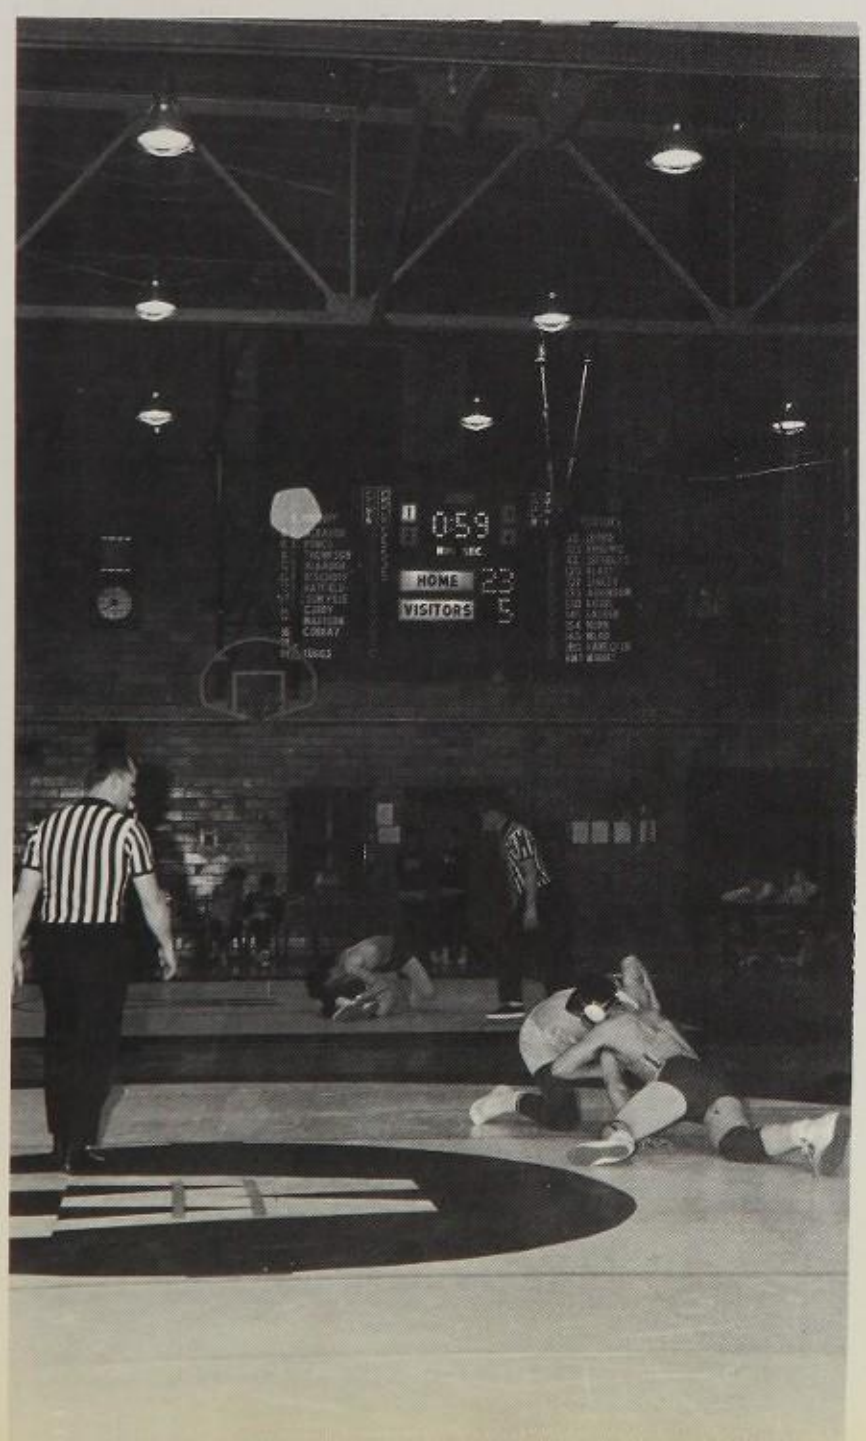
Johnny



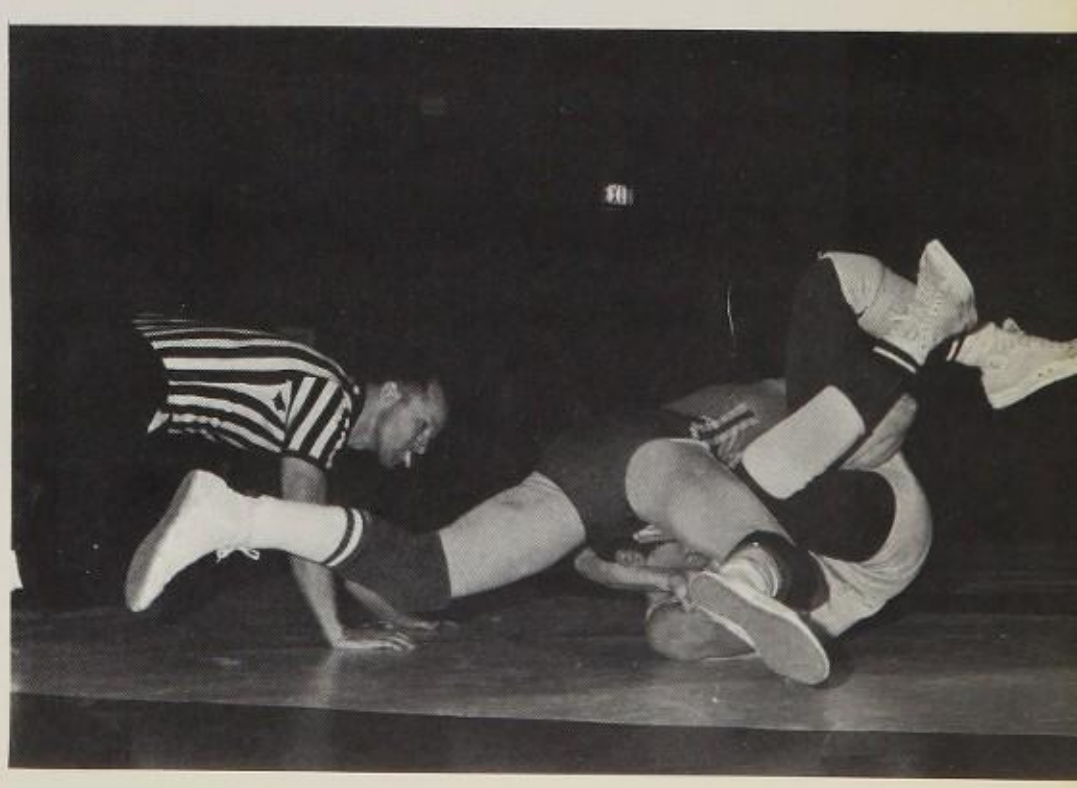




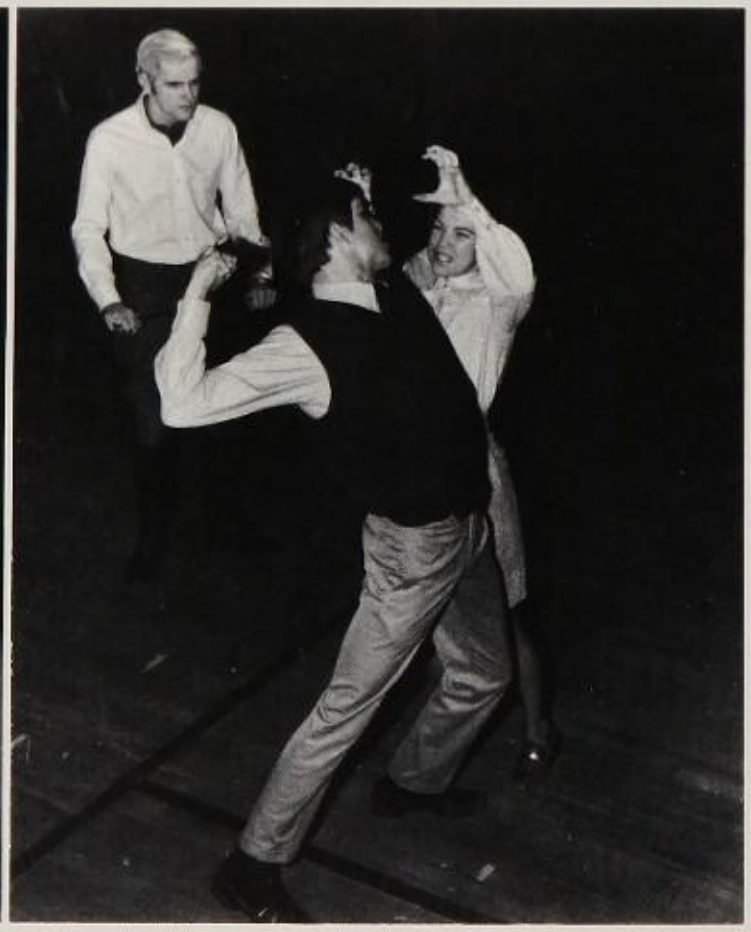
Basketball and Wrestling Make the Scene

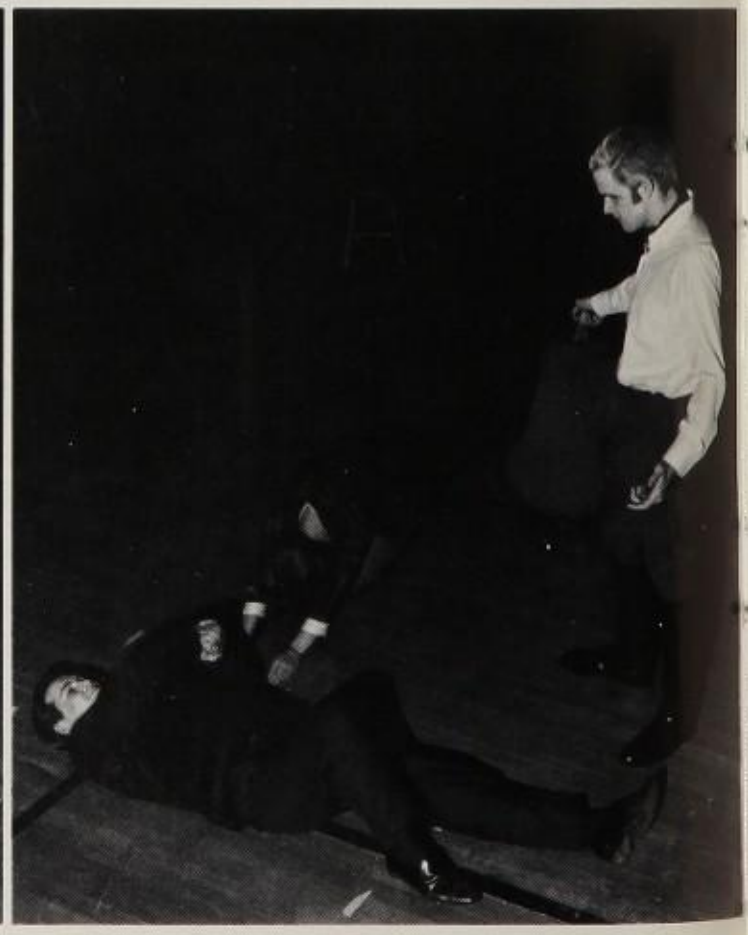


A highlight of the school year is always the sporting events. The crowds enjoy these thrilling games and matches, but seldom realize the great amount of work that is spent in training by these teams. They deserve a great deal of credit and support.



"The Acting Lesson"

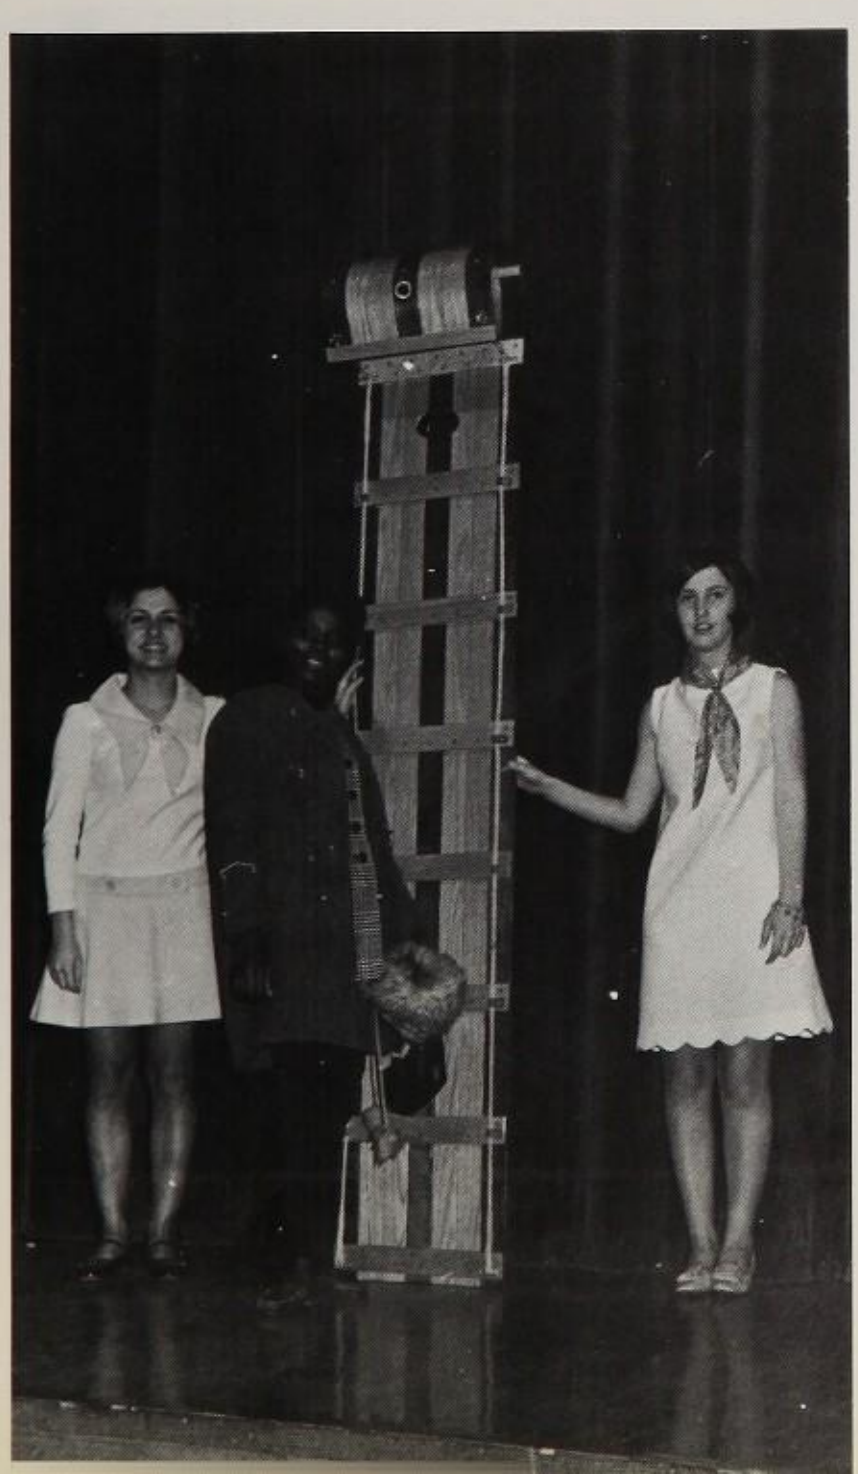




This year's contest play, "The Acting Lesson," is in actuality an acting lesson depicting life. From birth to death, Pupil One (Dan Fogelberg), Pupil Two (Mark Absher), and Pupiless (Marty Sausser) portray all phases of life guided by their Director (Keith Barr). Mr. Randy Wonzong directs and critiques the actors in hopes that the play may enter state competition.

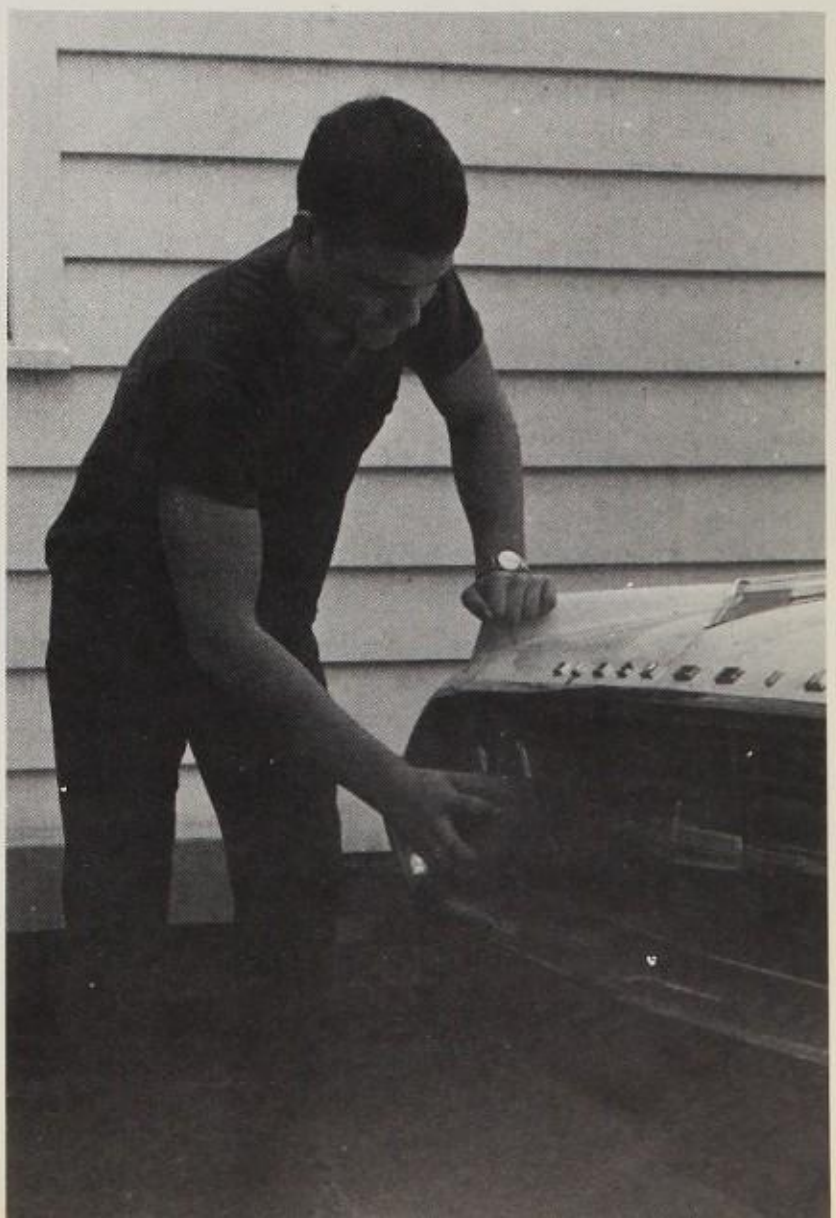
Chili Supper

The 18th Annual Chili Supper was again sponsored by the Woodruff High School Tomahawk Club. Reigning as Queen of the event was Jackie Livengood. Her attendants were (left to right) Kathi Bennett, Terri Johnson, Debbie Rosson, and Sue Alberti. A dance and talent show was held, and the grand door prize, a toboggan, was won by Linda Ford.



Gaiety and Laughter Summon Spring

Ever had an "Allegro" day (for an explanation of that term ask any Senior who studied Milton in English 7-8!) when the soda was cold and the socker game was lively? Spring bursts forth with gaiety and laughter, bright flowers, drippy jobs, and beautiful sunsets.



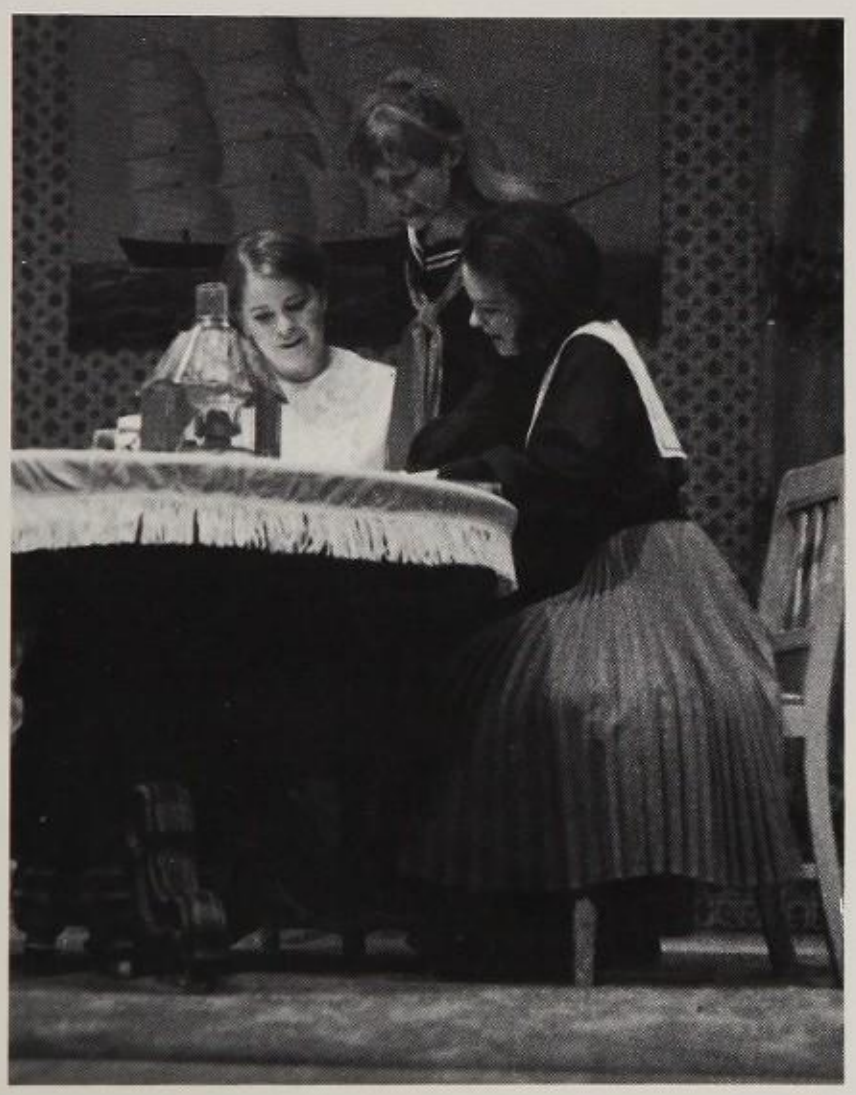
A Man For All Sports

Spring adds a variety of sports to Woodruff athletes. Baseball, golf, swimming, tennis, track, and gymnastics, which is new this year, all offer the challenge of competition as well as enjoyment and invigorating activity.

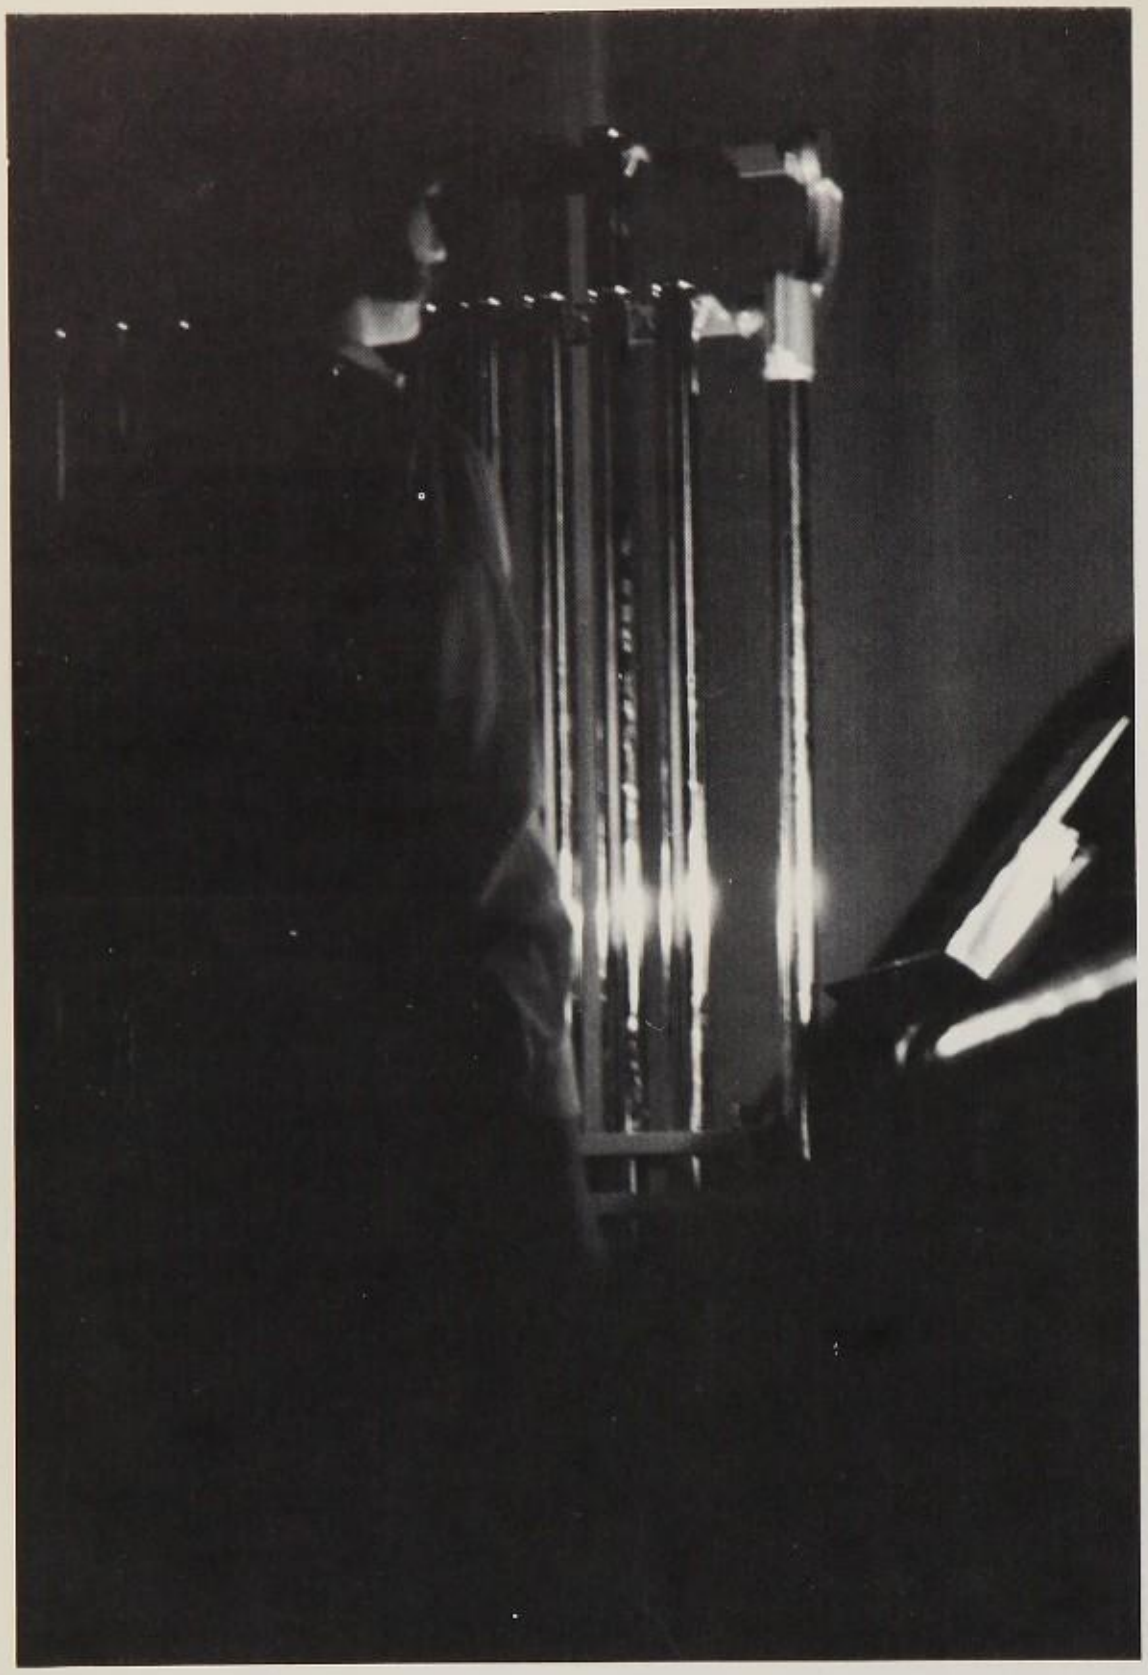
Junior Prom

On May 18, 1968, "The Rain, the Park, and Other Things" were all found inside the Bradley Student Center for the setting of the Junior Prom. Reigning over the elegant evening were Marty Sausser and Dave Clarke, and the music was provided by the "Starlighters."

"Years Ago"



A young girl, Ruth Gordon Jones (Joyce Richardson) wants to go to New York to become an actress. Her mother (Wendy Croslin) and her father (Dave Duke) discourage this idea, thinking that she should become a physical education teacher. A visit by the directors of a culture school in this field, Miss Glavin (Anita Lawson) and Mr. Bagley (Jay Barker), make Ruth even more anxious to become an actress. Even though it means leaving her hometown sweetheart (Jay Manning) and her two best friends (Vicky Grube and Marilyn Littler), Ruth departs for New York and the society life.



Woodruff High School Orchestra

Ears are perked and heads lifted high as the tones of the Woodruff High School Orchestra delight their audiences. A particularly pleasing sound drifts from a new addition this year, the chimes. The bounce of the baton, which reflects the enthusiasm of the director, Mr. Allen, leads these musicians to the rhythm and harmonies which are heard at the Christmas Assembly and at concerts. These events are the final products which prove that the years of individual preparation, the first hour sessions and extra practices, and the skill and diligence of the director have enriched Woodruff musically.

Woodruff Relays

Each spring, track teams from around twenty area high schools meet at the Peoria Stadium to compete in the annual Woodruff Relays. Reigning as this years Queen of the Relays was Jackie Livengood. Her attendents were Sue Alberti, Debbie Rosson, Barbara Tschaepe, and Pam Kroeger. Different racing competitions, the discus throw, and the high jump pictured on these pages were among the many exciting events of the afternoon.

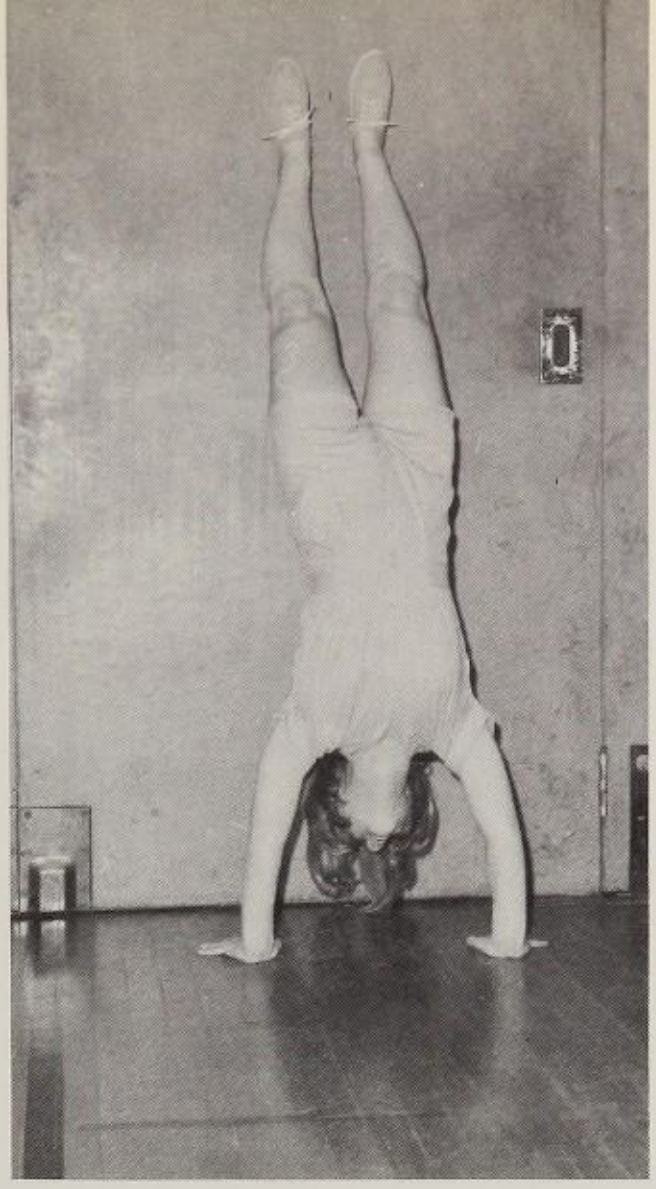
Potpourri



A little bit of everything summarizes this page and this whole year. Illinois' 150th year of statehood was celebrated and her contributions honored at the Sesquicentenial Assembly presented by the history department. Many senior guys celebrated a special birthday with a nervous visit to a popular place, their draft boards. Mad buttons showed mod thoughts while others tried yoga for thoughts of a different type. And most important, this year left many at Woodruff with a desire to work toward a spirit of peace and understanding for everyone.

Observer Editorial & Business Staffs

Ever feel like blowing your cool? Under the constant pressure of deadlines, the OBSERVER Editorial students often feel like doing just that as they create Woodruff's newspaper. Advised by Mr. Bushman and devoting more than the allotted one period a day for their tasks, they search for the interesting and unusual to delight their readers.

The OBSERVER Business staff plays a role equally essential as they meet the public and sell the ads that make it possible for Woodruff to have a newspaper.

Giving credit to industrious and responsible students who have worked on school publications, the Quill and Scroll is an honorary society whose members are chosen by their academic and service merits. All must be in the upper third of their class. Business staff members must have sold a required minimum of ads, and editorial staff members must have worked diligently in a responsible position on a staff for a certain amount of time. These are people to whom most of the credit is due for the fine quality of Woodruff's publications.

Concert Choir

The vocal music department under the direction of Miss Dolores Lauderbaugh has excelled this year with gifted and diligent students and lavish productions. "Finian's Rainbow" took the spotlight, a masterwork which clearly showed the talent and artistry of this department. The Concert Choir is as well involved in a full schedule of activities just a few of which are the Christmas assembly, a spring concert, the Fine Arts Program, and competition in the mid-state nine musical contests.

The finesse of our ensambles is excelled by few. These popular groups keep heavy schedules also as they delighted the faculty at their Christmas supper, the Kiwanis Club, and the Peoria Country Club at a Christmas program. They too competed in the mid-state nine contests.

Preparing for the concert choir, those students in the boys', girls', and prep choirs learn the fundamentals and enjoy a new look at music. They are presented at the spring concert, their major program of the year.

Mrs. Blake lead these students of all levels in discovering more about Spanish and all it represents. Their monthly meetings are devoted to speakers or plans for their Christmas party and their spring banquet. Great fun is had also at their picnic which they hold with the French Club. For the past two years our Spanish speaking AFS students have enhanced greatly the spirit and enthusiasm of this club as well as their knowledge of Spanish cultures.

Der deutsche Verein

Adding to the mere knowledge of a language, the German Club, guided by Mr. Hedges, seeks to learn more about German culture. A slide show by a Bradley professor, a talk by a German car salesman, and a discussion given by a local resident from Germany arroused their curiosity and added to their basic knowledge of German culture. And even more fun is had at their annual German banquet held each spring.

Societas Latina

Le Cercle Français

Experiencing more of the excitement of a new language, the French Club looks forward to a monthly meeting under the direction of Mrs. Bush. These meetings are devoted either to planning for one of their major events of the year, their spring banquet and their picnic, or to having an interesting program giving insight into French culture, such as the talk given this year by Mme. Perrine about her homeland of France. At Christmas time they delight many with strains of "Sainte Nuit" as they go on their annual carolling party.

Their mornings are completed with regular subjects and the afternoons are devoted to a responsible secretarial position in the community. Thus their senior year is busy but they graduate with excellent academic and practical experience in their future vocational field.

Office Occupation

Office Assistants

Scurrying through the halls every hour of the day, the office assistants are an invaluable part of the smooth functioning of the school. Responsible and trustworthy, these students sacrifice an hour each day running errands, answering phones, or completing one of the many tasks that must get done in our offices.

Future Teachers

Appreciation and understanding of the teaching profession are the main objectives of the Woodruff High School chapter of the Future Teachers of America. The club is a service organization , advised by Mrs. Campbell, and serves when called upon by the administration or faculty. A TMH Christmas party, a potluck and spring picnic with the Key Club, and a taffy apple sale are all annual events. The chapter also gives a $50 scholarship to a Senior who intends to enter the teaching profession.

Art Service Guild

The Art Club contains a membership who are interested in the arts and in crafts. They express this enthusiasm by attending workshops in crafts and by taking tours of local interest under the leadership of Mrs. Taylor. A most popular and educational event is the tour planned to St. Louis in the spring.

Individual Events

Talented students from all the speech classes who have ambition and originality represent Woodruff in numerous speech contests. These students, under the direction of Mr. Freeburn, Mr. Wonzong, and Mr. Funk, practice different types of speeches outside of class and compete against other students at invitationals. Then they move on through elimination contests at district and sectional meets to state honors.

National Honor Society

Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the four ideals which the National Honor Society represents and promotes at Woodruff High School. Chosen by members of the faculty, these students serve the school and their community throughout the year under the supervision of Miss Sperling. Their activities include helping with the annual grade school EMH Christmas party, paying the tuition for a young boy in Free China, continuing a record of awards and honors at Woodruff, and having breakfasts for honor roll students.

Publicity Staff

In an assembly near the end of the school year, Mr. McDonald is presented with a scrapbook which has been carefully and precisely compiled by Miss J. Berman's capable publicity staff. This organization also handles the news releases to the various media about all the special occasions and awards presented to students at Woodruff.

Ushers

Hostesses of all the plays and musicals, the ushers welcome each member of the audience with a smile and a program. Miss Blackburn advises this group of girls which makes up one part of the team that repeatedly builds a successful event for Woodruff. To add fun to their work, they plan a Christmas and a spring party each year as reward for their efforts.

Debate

"To be or not to be..." could no doubt be debated for for hours by this group of hard-working students. The debating team is composed generally of the most capable and interested students from the debate classes who are willing to spend extensive outside time in developing and coordinating their talents. They may compete on one of three levels, depending on their experience, at contests and tournaments held all over the state. Mr. Funk has groomed these students excellently as they have scored a fine record for Woodruff.

Science Prefects

Providing a much needed extra hand, the science prefects give up a study hall to assist a science teacher. Whether grading the endless papers or running an errand, these girls save their instructor's time for more important tasks and for this are much appreciated.

Science Club

Mad scientists making a strange new fiber? No, these are interested science students who take the initiative to do extra projects. Meeting every other Thursday with Mrs. Kohlhase, they do experiments of their choice, like trying to make nylon and rayon, and have speakers on the various vocational opportunities offered in science

Key Club

An honorary service organization which is extremely active at Woodruff is the Key Club, advised by Mr. Fogelsong. Five guys are selected each year from each class whose grade point average must be at least 2. 5 as members to this organization sponsored by the downtown Kiwanis Club. They certainly deserve a cheer for their many contributions to the community which include work on the EMH Christmas party, charity drives for several funds, school Christmas dance, after game dances, and the participation in several spirited pep assemblies.

Lettermen's Club

A service organization with muscles, the lettermen are guys who have earned at least one athletic letter and are willing to serve their school in many other ways. Meeting the second and fourth Tuesday of each month, they plan their fund raising events like their car washes and organize the services they render like the Christmas basket drive. A highlight of last year was the day of touring and the baseball game they saw in St. Louis as a result of the money they were able to raise.

Distributive Ed.

The morning starts early for this group of industrious seniors who meet daily from 7:45 through first hour under the instruction of Mr. Bucher. They combine their normal morning classes with a job in retailing in the afternoon for which they will earn two credits. This combination gives them knowledge as well as experience to develop their talents in the retail field.

Sports enthusiasts of all kinds, no matter what their degree of skill, fill the gym every Monday and Friday after school as the Girls' Intramurals take the floor. The 1968-69 Varsity Cheerleaders have made this year a very successful one. During the summer they attended the 15th Annual Cheerleading School at Illinois State University. At this camp, the cheerleaders were taught to improve sportsmanship at athletic events as well as the latest in cheerleading techniques. Out of 700 cheerleaders, our spirited cheerleaders won four first place ribbons and one third place ribbon. They also won the spirit stick three nights in competition.

To be a cheerleader, a girl must pass several requirements. Among these are coordination, leadership, loyalty, cooperation, responsibility, and a neat appearance.

The goals of cheerleading are to promote school spirit, develop good sportsmanship between student body and team, and to back the team. We should be very proud of our girls, for they have accomplished these goals.

Congratulations!

After 12 years, you've got a good start on your education.

And you can plan on spending the rest of your life completing it. Because your education doesn't stop here—or with college, business school, or job training.

It continues . . . as life continues. The world will be your classroom, the future your curriculum. So keep up the good work. Our best wishes to you . . . as you continue your education.

TAKE TIME

There is a lifetime before you. Many of your aims and goals you have in mind, and you now stand ready to begin to walk down the path of your chosen future. As you go, take time . . . time to continue to learn, time to think, time to understand. Take time as your tool, and use it wisely, with the knowledge you have gained through your school years, to achieve the full and satisfying life you seek.

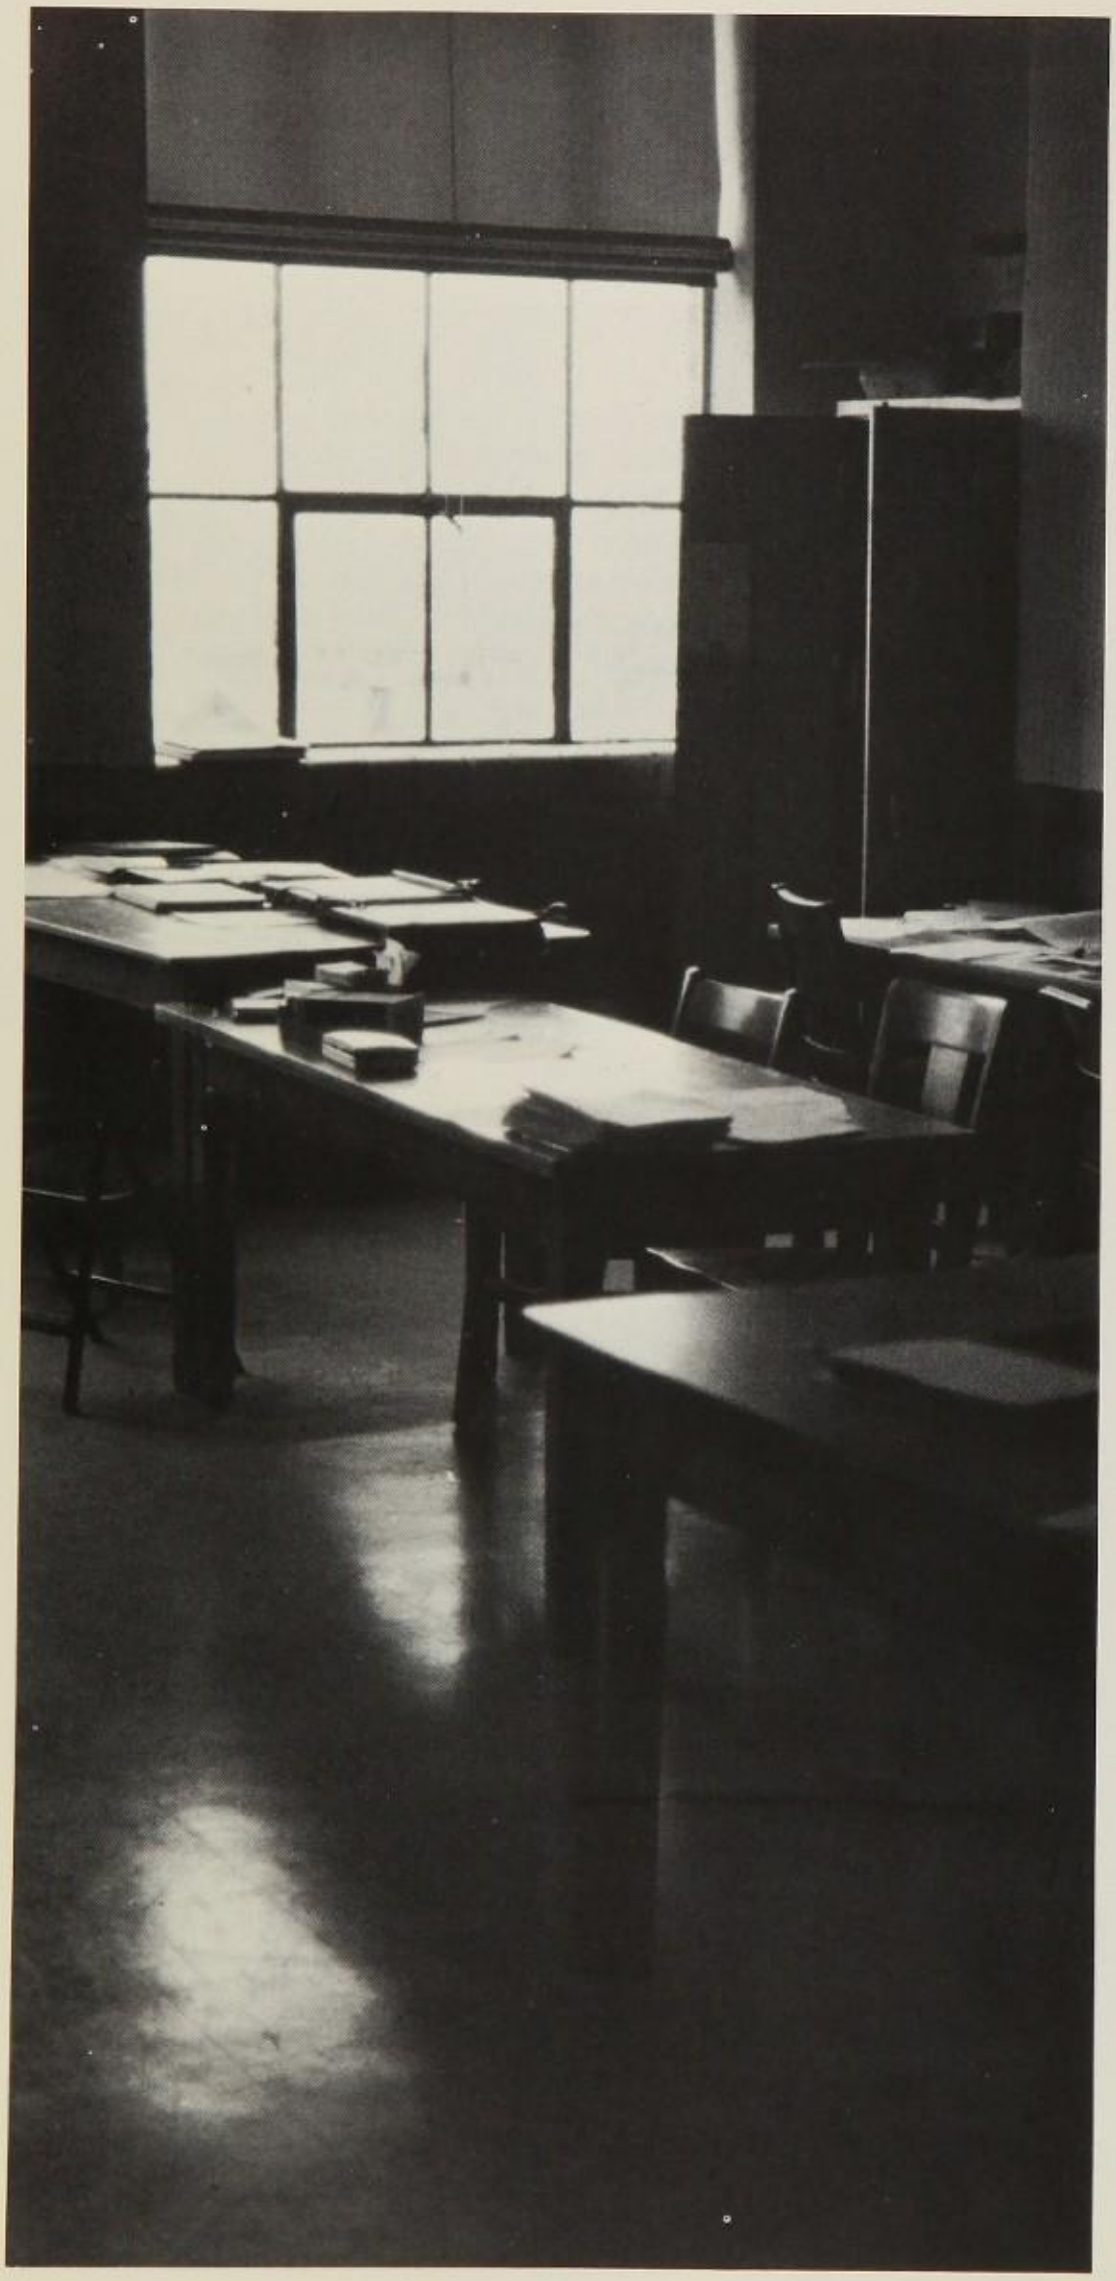
Words Are But Empty Thanks

"An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man."
Emerson

Woodruff High School lost its principal this year as Mr. L. R. McDonald completed his last year. And yet Woodruff cannot lose the profound effect he has had as he has molded and formed the heart of this school through thirty-two years of devotion. Generations will be the stronger for his talents and convictions.

His voice began and ended each day with the announcements, but many were not consciously aware of all his numerous efforts in between. Planning the new IBM system with Mrs. King (opposite page) or discussing the week's events with his secretary, Mrs. Monser (below), his influence was felt throughout all functions of the school. Mr. McDonald, conferring with Mr. Durham (below), was able to accomplish what he did due to the respect and cooperation of a fine faculty and student body. He realizes better than most, perhaps, that "the direction in which education starts a man will determine his future," and he devoted a life's work to this ideal. Certainly words are but empty thanks.

"The Sounds of Silence"



Perhaps Simon and Garfunkel expressed the best sound of all, for "The Sounds of Silence" mean that the hustle and bustle of the year is done, and the 1969 TALISMAN has been completed. There is a bit of sadness connected with finishing our last yearbook, but there is a sense of accomplishment and a feeling of hope as we have tried to capture the sounds of living with an entirely different format of yearbook. We as co-editors realize that all of this work could not have been done without the cooperation of our staff who gave up many Saturday mornings of sleep to work on a deadline. Thanks go to Diane Brooke, the class editor, for the use of her car for our many errands and for providing nourishment when we worked late. Dave, Ken, Mike, and Ed also did an exceptional job in an area we knew nothing about—the sports section. The whole yearbook would have suffered without the help of Diane Shoemaker, who did the entire faculty section and every other little task that needed to be done, and Paula Pitsch, who lent a helping hand to the class section. We must not forget Shirley Wong, who had perhaps one of the most difficult tasks, the index, and Lynn Harper who improved our organization section.

There is one person to whom we owe a special thanks—Miss Herzog, our advisor. Even if we did have to listen to FM music on her radio, we never could have produced as fine a yearbook without her. We will miss you, Miss Herzog, with all of your encouraging and Snoopy signs!

The list is endless of the others who contributed in making this book a success: Mr. Hellige and his business staff who sold our ads; Marla, who put the ad pages together; Mr. Gardner, our American yearbook advisor, whose expert advice is seen in these pages; Mr. Roger Foote and his brother Doug of Creative Photography, who took pictures whenever we asked, and printed them until late at night; Fabry's Studio for their fine help with the Senior and organization pictures; and last but not least, Mr. McDonald and the entire Woodruff faculty for their cooperation on the days pictures were taken and in letting us out of class to meet a deadline. We hope you, the student body, find pleasure in reliving the sounds and memories found in this, the 1969 TALISMAN.
